COME ON IRENE!

Great-grandmother still a regular at White Hart Lane – at the age of 101

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

SPURS fan Irene McBride is still cheering on the players from her seat in the stands – at the ripe old age of 101!

The great-grandmother regularly attends Tottenham Hotspur's home matches with her family and received a rapturous reception from a packed stadium when she was paraded before the White Hart Lane crowd as the club's oldest season-ticket holder.

Irene, a resident of Springview care home in Crescent Road, Enfield, was presented by legendary Spurs goalkeeper Pat Jennings with a personalised "McBride 101" shirt, autographed by the current team, during the half-time interval of Spurs' 3-0 Premier League victory over Bournemouth.

Irene's grandson, Julian Stringle, 51, said: "While waiting to be introduced to the supporters, club officials thought it was best if she had a seat rather than stand – so she unwittingly plonked herself down on the touchline seat of Tottenham boss Mauricio Pochettino, who had vacated it minutes earlier."

Spurs back in the 1930s, ranks Jimmy Greaves as her all-time favourite Spurs player – and she met her current hero, striker Harry Kane, by chance in the players' tunnel after being taken on an after-match tour of the ground.

"He was on his way to do a post-match TV interview and spotted us, and agreed to come back and have his picture taken with her," said Julian, a professional jazz session musician.

"When he shook her hand, she remarked, 'Haven't you got warm hands?', to which he replied, 'Yes, because I've been running around,' and the little chat he had with her made her day," added Julian.

Later, as Irene left the ground she was mobbed by fans and even one of the souvenir scarf-sellers joined in, adorning her with three Spurs

Church is hit with fine for unholy racket

AN unholy din caused by revellers has landed an evangelical church with fines totalling more than £2,000 for noise nuisance.

Total Healing World Outreach UK, a Christian charity, was prosecuted by Haringey Council after a flood of complaints from residents about the racket caused by various events held by those hiring its premises, in Fountayne Road, Tottenham, for private parties and other functions.

Despite the charity's trustees being served with a court order to keep a lid on the noise, the disturbances continued.

On one occasion, Highbury Magistrates' Court heard, council enforcement officers were called to a large party at 2.45am and the music blaring from a powerful sound system was so loud it was rattling the windows and vibrating the floors of neighbouring homes, keeping residents awake.

Vera Ezenwa, one of the charity's trustees, was told the organisation must pay a £1,340 fine for breaching the abatement order, as well as costs of £1,000 and a victim surcharge of £30.

The charity was told that, despite the fact that it may not have been directly involved with the parties, it was responsible as it hired out the venue.

Campaigners ponder legal action to stop festival

A COMMUNITY group is considering legal action as part of a fierce campaign to stop a three-day music festival going ahead.

Headliners, Chase & Status, Calvin Harris, and 1975 are among a string of big names who will play in Finsbury Park after the Wireless Festival was given the green light by Haringey Council earlier this month.

But The Friends of Finsbury Park are "working closely with their solicitor" to try to stop the music festival going ahead on July 8, 9 and 10.

Chairman Tom Palin told the Advertiser: "We have always said we are not against Wireless Festival in itself, but the event is just too big for Finsbury Park. It's vast scale covers almost one third of the park, surrounded by an oppressive eight-foot-high green metal fence, excluding park users and residents in high summer for weeks on end. We want to work with Haringey to find alternative, more imaginative streams of income, which are more appropriate in type and scale for our wonderful park and inclusive of the local community."

Mr Palin added that there had also been major concerns expressed from fans on social media for having Wireless in Finsbury Park this year, worried that the violence and antisocial behaviour which characterised Wireless 2015 might erupt again.

He said: "After reviewing the relevant legislation, it is our view that Haringey Council does not have the power to hold Wireless Festival. We are now working closely with our solicitor Susan Ring to discuss the next course of action."

Last year's event was marred by trouble as crowds of ticketless fans "rioted" and tried to break down the fencing to get into the festival.

A council spokeswoman said that this year the event would run as smoothly as possible.

She said: "Music festivals like Wireless are part of a range of events that take place in the park each year. Others include funfairs and family attractions, charity gatherings and fun runs. Events bring in vital income to Haringey to help to fund new facilities and improvements – such as the recently refurbished Finsbury Park ball courts and new security lighting for the track and gym."

Jail for man who turned house into a gun factory

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

A MAN who converted replica guns into live firing weapons by turning his Ponders End home into a firearms factory has been jailed for nearly 11 years.

An arsenal of guns and ammunition, which, according to detectives, would almost certainly have ended up in the hands of violent criminals on Britain's streets, was discovered at the home of Rakesh Patel, 39, in Alma Road, during a police search, Wood Green Crown Court heard last week.

Border Force police officers at a UK airport had intercepted a parcel from the United States last August addressed to Mr Patel at his home containing an imitation handgun capable of being converted to fire live bullets.

On September 2 last year, officers from the Metropolitan Police's Trident and Area Crime Command, which targets gang crime, raided his address and searched the premises.

There they uncovered an armoury including a total of 11 firearms – two of them capable of firing live rounds and nine in various stages of conversion. There were also between 50 and 100 rounds of ammunition.

Most of the firearms were found in the kitchen. Component parts were also discovered including barrels of firearms, ball bearings and metal tubing for conversion. Another firearm was found concealed in the garden and officers also discovered a crop of 12 mature cannabis plants in the front bedroom and the loft.

Patel was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment on a variety of gun-related charges last Wednesday, plus an additional 10 months for cultivation of cannabis.

"There is no doubt that these guns would have ended up in the hands of violent criminals on Britain's streets," said Detective Inspector Rick Sewart, from the Trident and Area Crime Command.

"With the help of Border Force officers, we have closed down this firearms factory, cut out a supply chain of lethal weapons and prevented fatal shootings on the streets of London.

"The lengthy custodial sentence imposed demonstrates the court's recognition of the harm caused by criminals like Patel."

scarves which he allowed her to keep.

Enfield-born and bred Irene has a seat in the upper tier of the ground's East Stand, next to Julian, but climbing several flights of stairs got to be too much for her a few years ago, so the club allows her to use the private lift for its catering staff.

She has a long affiliation with the club and personally knew Edmonton-born Jimmy Dimmock, who scored Spurs' winning goal in the 1921 FA Cup final as well as England international Willie Hall, who played inside-forward for the club in the 1930s.

They were in digs in Willow Road, Enfield, where Irene and her husband first lived before the couple moved to nearby Parsonage Gardens.

Paying tribute to Irene on behalf of the club, Harry Kane, who had earlier bagged two goals, said: "Irene is incredible. To think of her age and she's still here to support us, it's absolutely amazing.

"It was fantastic to meet her. It's incredible to have that support for so long and hopefully we'll continue getting wins and she's here for many, many years to come."

Scout Jack is prepared for the trip of a lifetime

By Clare Casey

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

JACK Abrey is one of just three Scouts embarking on a trip of a lifetime to Madagascar with international development charity WaterAid to help improve access to clean water and good sanitation across the country.

The student, of Eastbury Avenue, Enfield, rubbed shoulders with adventurer and TV presenter Bear Grylls, who is also the UK's Chief Scout, at the launch of the expedition.

Jack, 19, will see first hand what life is like without clean water and toilets, visiting areas without access to these vital resources as well as villages where WaterAid has worked to help transform lives.

He left for a Madagascan Scout camp yesterday (Tuesday) and will be taking part in a series of activities aimed at raising awareness on the importance of safe, private toilets and good hygiene.

Following training, he will visit communities to encourage positive behaviour change as well as supporting calls for the UK government to invest more in these basic necessities.

Jack, who is studying geography at Reading University, is chairman of the Community Impact Group at the Scout Association, which is leading the campaign.

He said: "Young people across the UK have committed to help change the lives of others for the better, both nationally and internationally. I'm really excited to visit Madagascar to see how Scouts are working with WaterAid there to transform lives by educating people about good sanitation and hygiene, as well as advocating for more investment in clean water and sanitation facilities. It will also be great to develop new ways we can join together with our Scout family in Madagascar, and across the world, to help get clean water and sanitation for everyone everywhere."

Madagascar is one of the poorest countries in the world, with 70 per cent of people living below the poverty line. Nearly 12 million people lack access to clean water and 88 per cent of the population have nowhere safe to go to the toilet.

Kye's a good Samaritan

STORM Katie left a trail of destruction in Enfield as gusts of wind up to 100mph battered Britain on Sunday.

A dozen trees in the borough were brought down by the gales, but apart from blown-down fences and loose roof tiles there was minimal damage to property.

A heavy branch from a tree in Aldersbrook Avenue, Enfield, was sent crashing down and blocked the road and pavement.

Builder Kye Barnfield, pictured, turned up to resume renovating a house opposite the fallen branch on Tuesday morning and tried to shift it to the side of the road.

When he realised how heavy it was, he began sawing the branches to enable cars and the lorry he was expecting to deliver building materials to get through.

"If that had come down as someone was walking past, they would have been killed outright because of the weight of it," he said. "It's also lucky no cars were parked near it."

An Enfield Council spokesman said: "Following the arrival of Storm Katie, the council responded to 12 calls relating to fallen trees.

"These have now been cleared, or are in the process of being cleared. Thankfully, as of yet, we have had no reports of property damage or people injured in the stormy weather."

School's Buggy production hits the spot

A NEW SOUTHGATE school's production of the musical Buggy Malone finished with a spectacular finale as the audience joined the cast of students by spraying and splattering each another with foam in a giant "custard pie" fight.

Those familiar with Alan Parker's much-loved 1976 film about the American 1920s' prohibition era, will know it climaxes with a riotous slapstick splurge-gun battle in which those performing end up covered in foam.

But St Andrew the Apostle Greek Orthodox School's adaptation left proud parents and pals splattered as they engaged in some uproarious fun.

The tale of custard-firing Tommy guns, prohibition mobsters in sharp suits, pedal cars, chorus girls and gangsters' molls was a spectacular success.

The school, in North London Business Park, even transformed its hall into Fat Sam's Gran slam Speakeasy, where the audience, who had been encouraged to come dressed in 1920s' fashion, were shown to their chairs by chorus members dressed as waiters and waitresses and served "mocktails" and nibbles as the action took place on stage.

"The relish and enthusiasm with which families and friends joined in the fun, splattering and spraying foam at each other, was a delight and all left covered in froth and streamers, grinning from ear-to-ear from an evening which will be hard to forget," said school spokeswoman Anna Averkiou.

POLICE have released an e-fit of a man they would like to speak to after a two-year-old girl was grabbed while playing in an Enfield park.

Detectives have released the image (right) and continue to appeal to the public for information.

The incident happened at about 4.30pm on Thursday, March 17, in a playground near Albany Park, in Enfield Wash.

The girl was in the playground when she was approached by a man who grabbed her arm. The girl's mother challenged the man, who ran away from the scene.

The suspect is described as black, in his late 20s and of medium build. He was wearing an Adidas hooded top, black trousers and dark coloured shoes and was carrying a black bag.

Detective Inspector Chris Rixon, of Enfield CID, said: "Thankfully the child was not hurt during this incident, but both her and her mother were very shaken up by the experience.

"The motivation for the incident remains unclear, but I would ask anyone who was in the park, or knows who is responsible, to contact police."

Anyone with information is being asked to call Enfield CID on 020 8345 3323 or via 101.

Government approval for Chase Farm redevelopment

By Clare Casey
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

THE multi-million-pound redevelopment of Chase Farm Hospital has been given the green light by the government.

Construction work will begin in the next few weeks to create a "state-of-the-art facility delivering 21st-century healthcare".

Government approval of the full business case submitted by the Royal Free London NHS Foundation Trust means public funds can now be released.

In total, the government is set to contribute almost £82million towards the redevelopment.

The trust is planning to plough between £109m and £120m into the building, partly funded by selling some land for housing and a school.

Chief executive David Sloman said he was looking forward to the new hospital taking shape over the next two years.

"With the final approval of the full business case, our plans to deliver a secure future and vastly improved facilities for Chase Farm can now become a reality," he said.

"It is a great achievement to have reached this point so quickly. I would like to thank all those who have helped to get us here."

Provisional plans showing how the hospital, in The Ridgeway, Enfield, will look were given the go-ahead by Enfield Council's planning committee in December. They included provisions for expanding Chase Farm as well as a renewed commitment to maintaining the Highlands Wing, which was built in 1995 and is the most modern part of the hospital.

There will also be "world-class" facilities for elective, non-emergency

The future: An artist's impressions of how the front and back of the rebuilt hospital will look care, diagnostics, out-patients, an urgent care centre, planned elective surgery and post-operative care, an older persons' assessment unit and rehabilitation facilities.

But not everyone is happy.

Enfield North MP Joan Ryan has been vocal in her concerns for the hospital as the site's overall footprint is reduced as outlying buildings and wards are brought under one roof.

She has warned that Chase Farm will be reduced to a "cottage hospital" as 16 surgical beds will be lost.

Works to prepare the site, including demolition of unused buildings and alterations to some of the internal roads, began last year.

Duo are jailed for possession of banned gun

Firearm found under car seat

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

TWO men from Enfield have been jailed for a total of 16 years for possessing a prohibited Magnum handgun.

The 3.57 Magnum Colt revolver was found along with bullets and drugs by unarmed officers from the borough's gangs unit after they had stopped a car in Wellington Road, Bush Hill Park, being driven by Damian Williams, 23, in February 2015.

Under the front passenger seat officers discovered the firearm, as well as 20 rounds of ammunition and a quantity of heroin and cocaine.

Williams was immediately arrested and the gun was sent for forensic examination.

DNA recovered from the gun linked the weapon to Angelo Michael, 30.

Subsequent inquiries showed that both Williams and Michael had been making efforts to buy spare parts for the weapon.

Williams admitted responsibility for the drugs, but denied any knowledge of the gun. Michael also denied any link to the weapon.

After a seven-day trial at Wood Green Crown Court, the two were convicted by a jury and sentenced on Wednesday last week.

Williams, 23 of Third Avenue, Bush Hill Park, jailed for 11 years' for possession with intent to supply class A drugs, possession of a prohibited firearm and possession of ammunition.

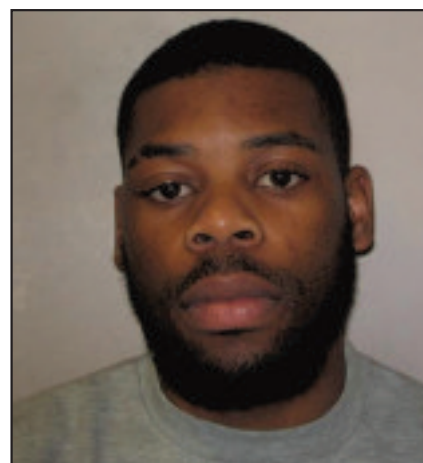

Michael, of Tweedy Close, Bush Hill Park, was sent to prison for five years' for possession of the prohibited firearm.

"These men were found guilty of possessing an extremely powerful handgun," said Detective Constable Peter Burdis, of Enfield gangs units.

"The use of this weapon would almost certainly have had fatal consequences.

"The removal of this gun from the hands of criminals has undoubtedly made our community safer.

"Those engaged in armed criminality or gang activity should get the message – you will be found, you will be arrested and you will spend years in prison," added DC Burdis.

Teenage trio plead guilty to betting shop robberies

THREE Enfield youths have been sentenced after carrying out a string of terrifying robberies on betting shops.

In a nine-day period in November last year, the trio, all aged 17, raided six bookies in Enfield, Haringey and Waltham Forest.

In each robbery they threatened a cashier with violence unless the takings were handed over.

They successfully made off with cash in four of the robberies.

They were finally caught after CCTV images were issued by the police and the name of a possible suspect was provided to officers.

That and CCTV footage from the six robberies led to the subsequent identification of the two other youths.

All three, who cannot be named for legal reasons, were sentenced at Wood Green Crown Court last Wednesday after each had pleaded guilty to conspiracy to rob at an earlier hearing.

One received two years and two months behind bars in a youth offenders' institution. The others received a three-year and an 18-month youth rehabilitation order respectively.

Speaking after the sentencing, Detective Sergeant Paul Grimmer, from the Met's Flying Squad, said: "Over a nine-day period last November, these three youths threatened and intimidated employees at bookmakers across north-east London.

"They put innocent members of staff in fear of violence, carrying out six crimes in a short period of time.

"Thanks to the help of the public they have been caught and now have to face the consequences of their actions," he added.

Just the job for the new man in charge at DWP

Visiting Enfield: Priti Patel and Stephen Crabb at Enfield JobCentre, in Windmill Hill, last week

THE first official public engagement of Stephen Crabb, the new Secretary of State for Work and Pensions, took place in Enfield last week.

Mr Crabb, who was appointed to the post after his predecessor Iain Duncan Smith quit over planned disability benefit cuts, joined employment minister Priti Patel on a visit to Enfield JobCentre, in Windmill Hill.

The duo chatted with job seekers and staff at the centre to see how the government's back-to-work support was helping Enfield residents improve their employment prospects and find a job.

"Since 2010 this government has transformed the welfare system from one that locked far too many people into poverty to one where people are supported into work and gaining financial independence," said Mr Crabb.

"I want to build on this excellent work and ensure we have a system that helps people to get the support they need, so they can get back into work and improve their lives and those of their families," he added.

Earlier in the day, Ms Patel had given a speech to bosses and entrepreneurs of 60 small and medium-sized enterprises at a meeting of Enfield and Southgate Business Forum at Bush Hill Park Golf Club to explain how the government is trying to boost businesses.

And following the JobCentre visit, the employment minister moved on to computer software provider Metaswitch, in Church Street, Enfield Town, before meeting the team behind business networking organisation Love Your Doorstep to hear more about how the government can support businesses and employers in the borough.

She said the latest labour market statistics showed that Enfield's long-term unemployed was at its lowest level since 2009 with the employment rate higher than the London average.

"Enfield Business Forum has helped play a vital role in maximising the potential of the area's workforce and I want to see an even closer partnership between the JobCentre and Enfield's employers," she said.

"By offering work experience, apprenticeships and traineeships, businesses can help attract the talent they need and enable jobseekers to get off benefit and into a fulfilling job," she added.

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and manager Richard Power agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise."

Columnist

Enfield Green Party

IT'S only five weeks to the mayoral and London Assembly elections, so this is my last chance to urge you to vote Green – and to let you know how the election works as it's all quite confusing. There are three ballot papers and each election uses a different system to decide who's won.

You vote for the mayor on the pink ballot paper and you get two goes in case your first choice gets eliminated. So there's no need for that "I'd like to vote Green, but I don't want to let x in" stuff.

You can vote for the Green candidate Sian Berry first and whoever you dislike least second. Sian, alas, will not win, so your "anti-x" second vote will count.

Then there's the yellow ballot paper, where you vote for an Assembly member to represent the local constituency – the combined boroughs of Enfield and Haringey.

That's first-past-the-post and our candidate is Ronald Stewart.

The one we Greens are really interested in is the orange ballot paper.

That elects Assembly Members from a "top-up" list to make the overall make-up of the Assembly roughly proportional.

It uses the rather complex Modified d'Hondt Method.

The main thing to remember is that, being proportional, Greens do get elected.

At the moment we have two members and we're hoping to increase that.

We'll need you to remember though: Vote Green on Orange.

This is a pipedream – and it's time to wake up

BORIS Johnson warned that his successor must raise the congestion charge in central London to combat growing traffic gridlock.

Average speed in central has fallen to 7.4mph, causing more pollution. The amount of vehicles entering central London is about the same as 20 years ago. The principle reason for the congestion is less road space mainly due to cycle lanes.

Is Enfield Council prepared to risk the central London experience being repeated by spending £40million-plus on the Mini-Holland cycle scheme?

Clare Rogers wrote how businesses can prosper, even if parking is reduced ("Cycle scheme will boost the economy, not damage it", March 23). The last time parking was reduced was when double red lines were installed along the A105. Result: an increase of 300 per cent in empty shop units. The situation slowly improved when the red route was withdrawn.

Town centres and high streets were damaged when out-of-town shopping was introduced in the 1980s. With parking outside the stores and shopping in one place, customers enjoyed the experience. On-line shopping has now hit out-of-town trade, along with high streets and towns. It's all about convenience. Slowing down traffic, reducing parking and increasing pollution by introducing cycle lanes along A-roads will be another nail in the coffin for our shops.

Cycling for fitness and pleasure should be encouraged, but thinking it's the way to shop and switching people from cars to cycles to go to work is not going to happen in the 21st century. Mini-Holland is a dream. Wake up and scrap it.

We have more power by staying in the EU

IN response to Neville Watson's letter on the EU In campaign's alleged negativity, "If Greenland can do it, then why can't we?", March 23), this is surely because there are simply so many reasons why leaving the EU would damage our interests.

His Greenland example is bizarre. Greenland is not fully autonomous, the Danish government has control over foreign affairs, defence and monetary policy. It receives about £1 billion from Denmark in subsidy and 62 per cent of Greenland's exports are to Denmark. China only accounts for about three per cent of Greenland's exports.

Outside of the collective EU trading area, Britain will not be in a position to bargain for strong trade deals. Both Iceland and Switzerland have already experienced this. For example, a KPMG study states that more market access opportunities have been granted for Chinese products being imported into Switzerland than vice versa.

Leaving the EU will also mean we actually have to allow more free movement of people into the country than is currently the case. Our negotiated opt-out of the Schengen agreement means it is less easy for people to enter this country at present than it is for them to enter Iceland or Norway, which are not in the EU. As for "taking back our country" by leaving the EU, we will instead be more vulnerable to unequal trade deals, fewer border controls and the inability to alter many regulations to which we will still be subject as a result of any trade deals we will need to make with European trading partners.

So staying in the EU actually gives us more control and power over our own affairs.

Parent governors must be valued

PARENT governors have no skills? Do Nicky Morgan and this government have a source of information that leads them to this conclusion? Where is their evidence?

Who are the governors who have the interests of the children at heart? Who are the governors who are prepared to give large amounts of time to the job?

Who are the governors who are approachable and able to liaise with other parents and enable the staff to get on with their educational role?

No skills? Then who do they think parent governors are? They have jobs covering a huge array of skills and coming from a wide variety of backgrounds. They are there to support the school in the best ways possible. They do not form a majority on the governing bodies of schools and so are there in a more supportive and information dissemination role. They have valuable evidence and viewpoints to give in any governing body meeting and sometimes become chairpersons owing to their skills and knowledge.

This is a very retrogressive step. Do we really want to return to the days of the 1980s when parents were viewed with great suspicion if they had the temerity to question what went on in a school? I think not and expect there to be a huge reaction from parents to this insult and deprivation of an important role. We should object as strongly as we can to this devaluation of "parent" skills.

IT is remarkable that, as her 90th birthday approaches, the Queen is still working so passionately for our country and supporting the work of hundreds of charitable organisations.

In recognition of her incredible efforts, I would like to invite readers to be part of an historic online commemoration at www.TheQueensBirthdayBook.com

The Queen's Birthday Book will form a huge digital collection of messages, photos and film to mark Her Majesty's special day on April 21.

Anyone can contribute for free by adding their birthday messages and personal stories of meeting the Queen. They can also share photos and videos of their street parties and celebrations for her official birthday in June.

One of my own special memories is performing for the Queen and other members of the royal family at Her Majesty's 16th birthday celebrations at Windsor Castle, a night which I hope she remembers as fondly as I do.

I do hope people will join me in wishing Her Majesty a very happy 90th birthday by sharing their messages, photos, drawings and videos, while also helping to raise money for some very deserving causes.

Preserve these public assets

ALTHOUGH the sale of hospital land ("Hospital poised for land sell-off", Advertiser, March 23) is neither new or shocking, it remains wrong our public assets are being stripped out when they should be guarded for future generations.

A similar sale of public land for an academy is also happening in Haringey, where the council is selling a third of its vehicles depot in Tottenham Hale to Harris for its inappropriately located school to get new facilities.

It is vital that the fallacious argument that fire sales of land and buildings is the only way to bring in investment is exposed. We can retain these assets and develop them for future generations.

MP bids to tighten up knife legislation

'Triple lock' would mean tougher age checks

By Clare Casey

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

THE MP for Enfield Southgate is taking on the retail giants in a bid to tighten up sales of knives to youngsters and reduce knife crime.

Conservative MP David Burrows has called for an amendment to the policing and crime bill, proposing a "triple lock" that would force retailers to make tougher age checks.

The "triple lock" system would mean that online retailers selling knives had to carry out online, delivery and follow-up verification checks before completing any sales to establish the age of their customers.

It is illegal to deliver a blade of more than 7.62cm (three inches) to anyone under the age of 18, but Mr Burrows said the law was barely enforced and largely ignored.

He said: "Knife crime is a brutal offence which devastates the communities within which it occurs. Enfield has been bruised in this way many times and I have committed much of my parliamentary and constituency time to increase the number of prosecutions for knife carrying and decrease the number of stabbings.

"Online sales to children are taking place with fatal and tragic consequences.

"It is time to bring the knife sales law up to date so we can catch reckless online retailers. I hope that my 'triple lock' will encourage suppliers to seriously consider their part to play in my campaign."

He added that the amendment would also serve the interests of police and protect the public from dangerous knives in the hands of those deemed too young to handle them safely.

Mr Burrows and former Enfield North MP Nick de Bois successfully campaigned for new knife crime legislation, known as "Enfield's Law", which ensured a minimum custodial sentence for those convicted of possessing a knife for a second time. It came into effect in July last year.

The Ministry of Justice has confirmed that since the law was implemented, the number of knife possession offences formally dealt with has increased by six per cent on the previous quarter. Also revealed was the fact that 314 more offenders were identified and 39 per cent of those received an immediate custodial sentence.

Amendment: Enfield Southgate MP David Burrows wants to make it harder for youngsters to buy knives

Firefighters douse blaze at incinerator

MORE than 70 firefighters battled a major blaze at the Edmonton incinerator plant which handles Enfield's municipal household rubbish and the waste of six other north London boroughs in the early hours of Sunday.

The fire broke out at the plant managed by London Waste Ltd at the London Eco Park, in Advent Way, at 9.54pm on Saturday.

Ten fire engines and crews from Edmonton, Enfield, Chingford, Walthamstow, Tottenham, Woodford, Stoke Newington and Hornsey fire stations deal with the incident.

They fought for six hours to control the blaze, which damaged part of the plant as well as destroying 500 tonnes of household waste which the plant's incinerator burns to provide electricity for the National Grid.

The cause of the fire is being investigated.

Boys make it an oar-some effort at charity fundraiser

By Clare Casey

news.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

KINDHEARTED lads rowed across the Channel to raise money for charity – without leaving the borough.

Sixteen boys from the 10th Enfield Boys' Brigade, based in Winchmore Hill, took up the challenge of raising money for Sport Relief by rowing the distance of the Channel between them.

The eight to 15-year-olds took just over five hours to complete the 20.6 miles, with each doing as much or as little as they could manage.

The sponsored challenge took place at Winchmore Hill Baptist Church, in Compton Road, where the group meets each week for fun activities, sport and craft as well as to earn their badges.

Brigade leader Chris Norman said: "The boys loved getting involved with Sport Relief. They came up with the idea of rowing and covering the distance across the Channel and set that as their target.

"From that point on the boys were engaged in collecting sponsors and came along on the day of the event with sponsor forms in hand and raring to go.

"We borrowed the rowing machines and set them up in the church hall. It was a great evening.

They all put in so much effort and exceeded expectations. I am extremely proud of them."

So far they have raised more than £600 for Sport Relief, which helps transform lives across the UK and in the world's poorest communities.

The group is on the look-out for new members, with age groups covering five to 18 years old. For more information on joining, go to enfield@boys-brigade.org.uk

On the spot: Tory mayoral candidate Zac Goldsmith

Goldsmith: 'I'll get tough with the fly-tippers'

MAYORAL hopeful Zac Goldsmith highlighted the scourge of fly-tipping on his latest visit to the borough.

The Conservative candidate – and MP for Richmond Park since 2010, who is hoping to follow in the footsteps of Boris Johnson as Mayor of London – is trying to drum up support in advance of May's election and believes he can win votes by focusing on environmental issues.

Speaking during a stopover at North Enfield Conservative Club, in Baker Street, last Wednesday, Mr Goldsmith said: "Fly-tipping has been raised so many times by people in Enfield. It is one of those things – it is an issue of civic pride, but it's much more than that.

"People have raised it with me a huge number of times. In fact, I don't think I've been to Enfield and it hasn't been raised as an issue."

Mr Goldsmith believes councils should be given the power to issue offenders with on-the-spot fixed penalty notices, rather than having to go through the courts.

The revenue from these fines could then be used by Enfield Council to fund extra enforcement officers, said Mr Goldsmith.

The Eton-educated son of billionaire Eurosceptic Sir James Goldsmith, is squaring off against rivals including Labour's Sadiq Khan on May 5.

He is also prioritising the protection of green belt land in the run-up to the election, arguing that London's housing crisis can be tackled by building exclusively on brownfield sites and stressing the importance of having access to outdoor space.

He explained: "Green spaces are under threat. We need to give them the maximum possible protection in law – not just green belt, but green spaces, metropolitan open land – the works."

First-class Degrees

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

PRINCE Charles is among their admirers and The Three Degrees are regarded by their fans as showbiz "royalty".

The legendary divas, accompanied by a live band, perform their own hits together with covers of other disco/soul classics associated with the Sound of Philadelphia when they take to the stage with their latest Strategy show at Millfield Theatre, in Edmonton, on Friday night.

Best known for chart-topping hits including When Will I See You Again?, Year of Decision and Take Good Care of Yourself, the songstresses are included in the Guinness World Records book for being the longest-running female vocal group in pop history with a career spanning 53 years. There have been plenty of personnel changes during that time – but the latest line-up includes original members Helen Scott and Valerie Holiday, together with more recent arrival Freddie Pool.

Their glamorous gowns, slick and stylish choreography and repertoire of soul/disco hits have made The Three Degrees a top touring act in clubs, cabaret and theatres worldwide.

And to coincide with their latest UK tour they have released their first studio album for more than 25 years.

It's a personal tribute to the magic music of Philadelphia, the American city from where they hail.

Like Detroit, which gave the world Tamla Motown, Philadelphia produced the Philly

Sound in the 1960s and 1970s, characterised by soul/funk influences and lush instrumental arrangements, often featuring sweeping strings and piercing horns.

The Three Degrees' live show not only features their own chart-topping tracks, but also classics from fellow Philadelphia artists.

Hits including Love Train, by the O'Jays, Disco Inferno, by The Trammps, Billy Paul's Me and Mrs Jones, and Strategy, by Archie Bell and The Drells, are all part of their set, along with Chicago-based Earth, Wind & Fire's Boogie Wonderland.

"For us, it is still exciting and we still enjoy our work," says Holiday.

"It still amazes me when we see teenagers singing along with our songs, and yet we still have the fans who have grown up with us."

Three cheers for have-a-go hero

EDDIE THE EAGLE (PG, 106 mins)

WHEN Baron Pierre de Coubertin kindled interest in the modern Olympic movement at the end of the 19th century, he proposed a series of ideals to epitomise the spirit of the sporting contest.

"The most important thing in the Olympic Games is not winning but taking part; the essential thing in life is not conquering but fighting well," he professed.

That mantra of fearless yet honest participation was perfectly exemplified by Cheltenham-born athlete Michael Edwards, who became a media sensation as Eddie "the Eagle" Edwards in 1988 when he represented Great Britain in the ski jump in Calgary.

His remarkable story of triumph against gravity, which swelled the patriotic hearts of a nation, provides the creative spark for Dexter Fletcher's silver medal-winning comedy drama.

Screenwriters Sean Macaulay and Simon Kelton don't let the truth get in the way of telling a good yarn, salomong between historical fact and humorous artistic licence to ensure their film remains giddily airborne.

Fletcher's light touch behind the lens concentrates on the camaraderie between a remarkable underdog and his fictional trainer, who defied the snooty naysayers to prove that anything is possible when you take a leap of faith.

Since he was a boy, Edwards (Taron Egerton) has driven his father Terry (Keith Allen) to distraction with a burning dream to compete in the Olympics.

The young man struggles to find a sport that suits him, so he switches attention to the Winter Olympics and discovers a loophole in the rulebook that would allow him to become Britain's first representative in the ski jump since 1929.

Aided and abetted by his mum, Janette (Jo Hartley), Eddie heads to Germany to a ski jumping training centre run by hard-drinking former competitor Bronson Peary (Hugh Jackman), who was booted off the US team by legendary coach Warren Sharp (Christopher Walken).

Bronson takes pity on Eddie and helps the newcomer to master the basics. But Dustin Target (Tim McInnerny), chairman of the British Olympic Committee, refuses to let Eddie compete on a technicality and adds a qualifying standard of 61m to the rulebook at the last minute.

With time running out before the Calgary games, Eddie hits the European ski jumping tour with Bronson, determined to soar to break records rather than bones in his quest for Olympic qualification.

Eddie The Eagle is an unabashedly crowd-pleasing delight for all ages. Egerton brings a sweetness and steely resolve to his plucky fish out of water, who defiantly tells a crowded news conference: "I did not come here as a novelty act... and I will not be going home as one."

Jackman offers robust support, rabble-raising from the sidelines.

In real life, Edwards never climbed atop the Olympic winner's podium, but this charming film is champion.

NEW HOMES DEVELOPMENT

The idea of new homes development is invariably a sensitive subject for most local residents. The fear is ever-present that the landscape that they know so well and love so much will change permanently. The situation that the country currently finds itself in however is one where there is an ever pressing need for more housing and this means that local and neighbourhood communities are going to have to accept change to some degree.

Difficult as it may be, we need to change our attitude to development as a nation. It can be a positive thing and not always a negative. The community has the ability to guide design and choices over locations but this can only be achieved by welcoming development rather than fighting it. Developers always prefer to work with communities to achieve a positive outcome for the benefit of everyone involved.

Bearing this in mind, if you are a stakeholder in a parcel of land that you think could be suitable for development to provide some new homes - no matter the size, then now is the time to act, to establish whether your land or old commercial buildings can become part of the next round of land allocations Lanes Specialist Land & New Homes Department can bring the right team together to work for you - to deliver a scheme that works for everyone.

Lanes can provide up-to-date market and development appraisals and advise on all things development from inception to completion. For an initial, confidential chat please contact Simon Cox at Lanes Land on 01992 526754 or simon.cox@lanesnewhomes.co.uk. # Market Update

Gina Antoniou, Head of Savills Barnet talks about the local market so far in 2016.

Gina Antoniou
020 8447 4408
gantoniou@savills.com

“Since the start of the new year, we have noticed increased optimism within the residential sales market in and around Enfield and the wider Home Counties.

Not only have we seen an increase year on year in the number of buyers registering but those who are looking to purchase seem to be a lot more serious about committing.

Around 60% of our portfolio is priced between £750,000 and £1.5 million; a level of the market where stock is at its lowest level in recent history and demand at its highest. This demand is being fuelled by those choosing to downsize in conjunction with families who are keen to secure a home in an area with good schools, superb access to London and which is surrounded by beautiful countryside, with all the advantages that brings with it.

This presents those thinking about upsizing with an opportunity. Properties priced up to £1.5 million which are priced competitively and in line with current market conditions, tend to sell quickly, sometimes with a number of purchasers vying to secure them.

Some vendors may be dissuaded from marketing their property for sale because the lack of stock across the board makes them question what and where they would move to. However, with around 30% of the sales we have undertaken since the beginning of the year, being secured privately, we would encourage anyone serious about moving to contact us – we have the knowledge of property which is not openly available and this can to help facilitate a move.

If you would like to discuss your property requirements, I would be delighted to talk to you.”

“Those who are looking to purchase seem to be a lot more serious about committing.”

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', 'IT' etc. in the advertisement.

4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belongs to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers

Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

The box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category

All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection

The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties.

We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(f)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. # In print...or ONLINE

Tel 020
for more info

In this rapidly moving technological age people are finding new ways to advertise, especially online via the internet. But contrary to what online sites are saying and common assumptions, print advertising is not dead. There are still benefits and disadvantages to both methods and the best way to succeed is to find a vehicle that covers both bases - and that's where we come in!

The Benefits of print advertising:

1. Print adverts last longer and will be seen often.
2. They will be seen by a large number of people and have the ability to hit a specific audience.
3. There is a more creative potential with print advertising.
4. There is a positive perception of newspaper advertising - it will encourage people to think the client is serious.

The Benefits of online advertising:

1. The advert content can be easily updated.
2. It's online 24/7, 12 months a year, all round the world.
3. A massive audience, with all ages now online.
4. Very quick response - you can be receiving candidates hours after posting your advert.

We'll give you the best of both worlds - every week, all week!

DIER THRILLED BY ENGLAND'S GLORY

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

ERIC DIER expressed his delight after scoring a last-gasp winner to help England come from behind to snatch a dramatic 3-2 victory away to world champions Germany on Saturday night.

The midfielder was one of four Tottenham Hotspur players – along with Harry Kane, Deli Alli and debutant Danny Rose – to be named in the starting line-up for the prestigious friendly in Berlin.

The match looked like ending in disappointment for England when they trailed 2-0, but Kane launched their fightback by reducing their deficit and Dier's stoppage-time effort sealed a famous win.

"It's an amazing feeling to score for England and one that I won't forget," Dier said. "It's probably the best feeling I have had thus far in my career and it's a very proud moment for me and my family."

"I thought the team showed great character and stayed positive to come back too. Once we got one goal back everyone had the belief that we could go on and win."

"It was the best way for it to happen, to be with the boys from Spurs. We enjoyed a nice moment at the end of the game."

"I was so happy for Danny. His opportunity is very much deserved and to play like he did on his debut, in that sort of game, was fantastic."

But, despite his delight at the outcome, Kane insists that England should not get carried away by their win in Berlin.

"We are all buzzing," he said. "Credit to the lads because we never gave in, but everyone needs to stay calm – it's a friendly."

"It's a great night for England. To be 2-0 down against the world champions and come back shows what kind of team we are."

"We played brilliantly and I thought we fully deserved the win. We had a lot of chances, and on another day we probably could have scored a few more."

A proud moment: Eric Dier was delighted to score a last-gasp winner for England in Germany

Following last night's friendly against the Netherlands at Wembley, Spurs' England contingent will now turn their attention back towards the club's Premier League title challenge as they prepare for a crucial contest at Liverpool on Saturday.

"It's got to that stage now where we're just worrying about ourselves," Alli said. "There are so few games left that we just need to concentrate on winning every game and not to worry about what else is happening around us."

"We just need to win the rest of our games and hopefully that will leave us in a good position come the end of the season."

"It was important for our confidence to win our last game, to keep morale high and to keep the squad heading in the right direction before the international break."

"We need to keep up the good form. We've got Liverpool when we get back, which we'll go in to with a good win behind us."

Comfortable win for Skolars in derby clash

THE London Skolars enjoyed an emphatic 38-12 victory at Hemel Stags in rugby league's Kingstone Press Championship One on Friday.

An extra edge was added to the derby clash by the fact that seven former Stags players were included in the Skolars side, and they played a key role in helping the visitors to secure their second straight league win.

However, it was the hosts who struck first as they opened the scoring inside two minutes – Kyal Greene bursting through a huge gap in the defence to score a try which Ben Stead converted.

The Skolars hit back though and John Paxton went close before they did level the scores when Alex

Anthony pounced on a loose ball to touch down. Charlie Lawrence converted.

Six minutes later the visitors took the lead as Mike Bishay made the most of a handling error from Hemel to score a try which Lawrence again converted.

The hosts had a try ruled out for a forward pass before Lawrence slotted over a penalty on the stroke of half-time to leave the Skolars 14-6 ahead.

But, as had been the case in the first half, Hemel started the second period strongly and a Barry John Swindells try, which Stead converted from the touchline, brought them back to within two points.

The Skolars were soon back on the attack though and increased their advantage moments later as a high kick from Jermaine Coleman caused havoc in the home defence and Sam Nash was able to stroll in unopposed.

Aaron Small then got his name on the scoresheet following another handling error from the hosts, before Eddie Mbarga further increased the Skolars' advantage at the end of a flowing move.

And the Skolars set the seal on a comfortable triumph by scoring again in the last minute as Nash collected a Small pass to touch down in the corner. Mike Bishay converted all four of their second-half tries.

The London Skolars go to Doncaster on Sunday.

Borough move closer to survival

HARINGEY BOROUGH took another massive step towards securing their place in Ryman Division One North on Saturday by securing a 2-0 victory at home to basement side Redbridge.

An impressive run of just three defeats in their latest 13 league matches has seen Borough pull away from the danger zone, and this latest triumph has left them needing just eight points from their last six games to be mathematically certain of avoiding the drop.

The hosts opened the scoring in spectacular fashion through Daniel Aristidou after just 11 minutes as he latched on to a poor clearance from the Redbridge keeper just over halfway and fired in a shot which dropped over the stranded keeper and landed just inside the far post.

Aristidou went close to adding a second, but Borough needed Coby Rowe to make a goalline clearance to preserve their lead at the interval.

Redbridge were unable to unduly trouble home keeper Harry Palmer in the second half though, and Borough made sure of victory by adding a second with 21 minutes remaining as Ross Dedman pounced on a loose ball to fire into the net from just outside the six-yard box after a free-kick had not properly been cleared.

The match rather petered out after this as Borough were able to cruise to victory.

Meanwhile, Borough were prevented from taking to the field because of the weather on Monday as their scheduled clash at Aveley fell victim to a waterlogged pitch.

Haringey Borough go to Heybridge Swifts on Saturday (3pm), before hosting Thamesmead Town on Tuesday (7.45pm).
